The attached letter to Pridie Brewster 'looked promising'...
- but it was just a front: the final and predictable

Dear Mr Young

INVESTIGATION OF A COMPLAINT CONCERNING MS K-DIT-RAWE

Following my last letter to you on 13 April 2006, I have now received more information from Ms K-Dit-Rawe and it appears to me that this matter needs further investigation.

So that I can consider this matter further, I will need to correspond with you and Ms K-Dit-Rawe. I will copy any information received from one party to the other. This often helps to clarify the issues for both parties. If, in the case of a particular document you do not wish this to happen, please let me know. The more you are able to help, the more quickly I will be able to investigate the matter. I would therefore be grateful if you could reply promptly to my letter and supply any information I ask for.

The matters arising from Ms K-Dit-Rawe complaint which appear to warrant further investigation are:

- 1 "That Mr R J Clement FCA failed to provide a detailed response, on behalf of his firm, Pridie Brewster, to letters dated 30 March 2005, 17 April 2005 and 9 May 2005 from Ms K-Dit-Rawe despite stating in a letter dated 15 April 2005 that he would do so once he had reviewed the information obtained."
- 2 "That on 5 November 2004 Pridie Brewster signed an Accountant's Report in the service charge accounts of Steel Services Limited for the year ended 31 December 2003 when the financial statements failed to reflect the findings of a Leasehold Valuation Tribunal (LVT) held on 17 June 2003."

I am enclosing copies of correspondence to date with Ms K-Dit-Rawe and I would be grateful for your comments. In particular, could you please provide the following information/documents:

Cont'd...

- A Please explain why your firm has failed to provide a substantive response to Ms K-Dit-Rawe's letters of 30 March 2005, 17 April 2005 and 9 May 2005. If a response was sent then please provide a copy.
- B Please provide copies of your firm's working papers relating to the service charge accounts for the years ended 31 December 2002 to 31 December 2004. If you would rather me conduct the review of the files at your offices then please call me to arrange a date to visit.
- C I would also be grateful for your responses to the following questions:
- (i) I cannot find a trace of Steel Services Limited being a registered company with Companies House. Your comments on this are invited.
 - (ii) Please explain how the LVT decision has been incorporated into the 2004 accounts. Why has the contingency fund not been utilised and what actions have been taken to refund monies to tenant's who appear to have overpaid as a result of the LVT decision?
 - (iii) Please explain why the major works fund income and expenditure is not shown in detail.
- D Any other information that you feel is necessary to enable me to consider this matter further.

I sent her a
06.06.06
letter providing
informtion

If you would like to meet with me in Milton Keynes to discuss this matter once I have had the opportunity to consider this further information, please let me know and we can arrange a date.

I am enclosing our leaflet "What happens when a complaint is made against you" which describes the Institute's investigation and disciplinary processes in general terms, which I hope you will find useful.

It may take some time to investigate these matters. Some cases are dealt with quickly but others can take in excess of a year where the case is complex and strongly contested.

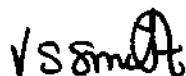

If it is necessary to refer this matter to the Investigation Committee for consideration under the Institute's disciplinary bye-laws, you will of course be able to make written representations to the Committee in addition to any information you have already provided to me.

I am also enclosing the leaflet "Support Members" and a list of support members both in your own area and in other areas. Support members are volunteer practitioners who are there to listen, help and advise on a confidential basis. In respect of their work as a support member, they are not subject to the duty to report misconduct. I have also told the support members scheme administrator that the complaint has been made (but no details) and she will write to you with further details of the help that is available.

Cont'd...

I would appreciate hearing from you within fourteen days, but please contact me if you think you will need more time than this.

Yours sincerely
